

Dear Recruiter,

In response to a job offer I would like to apply for this position.
I believe that I would be well-tailored to this job.

In career-wise I am looking for a job as a software developer or IT support.
I like to work with an accuracy and a good quality. I always enjoy to learn new skills and possibilities.

Personally I love to travel and visit new places and cultures. I like cooking and taste new cuisine. I like to relax playing in online games. I love computers and software.

I am confident that your company is a great place to grow for new IT experts therefore I would like to apply for this job and get to know more about your company.

Thank you for review of my resume.

Sincerely

Damian Cwykiel
